Description:

From the Author I wrote Love Your Skin for women of all ages; especially those who struggle with skin problems, have battled acne or other concerns their entire lives, or would like to understand their skin from a professional standpoint.

I am a licensed aesthetician, licensed skin care educator, former spa owner, and have worked with many of the top professional skin care companies as a product trainer. This book is also excellent for someone who is considering entering into the beauty industry and would like a head start on what the pros learn.

I've written it with a twist by giving it a "love and relationships" theme. I wanted it to be something women could relate to, rather than a mass of stuffy, boring information. Love Your Skin covers all aspects of skin care with an emphasis on inner and outer beauty and wellness.
